ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Judith Becker

Four years have passed since the publication of volume 1 of Karawitan: Source Readings in Javanese Gamelan and Vocal Music. In that volume I thanked a number of people who since that time have continued to contribute to the editing of subsequent volumes such as R. Anderson Sutton and Susan Pratt Walton. In addition to the many scholars whose assistance is acknowledged individually in the introductions to the appendices that follow here, special appreciation is due to René T. A. Lysloff for the time he spent compiling an index that we both wanted to be of maximum use to our readers. No simple computer search could have resulted in the kind of educational index we hope we have achieved.

I wish to express my thanks for the editorial, secretarial, and production assistance of several people who labored on volume 3 employed by the publications division of the Center for South and Southeast Asian Studies, namely, Randal E. Baier, Margaret Becker, Alice Frye, Marta Stowell, Cara Murphy, and Nancy Manion.

Finally, I am especially grateful to the one person who has been intimately involved with every detail of the editing and production of these three volumes, the Center's general editor, Janet Opdyke. Her skill and experience have improved every aspect of these volumes.

APPENDIX 1

GLOSSARY OF TECHNICAL TERMS MENTIONED IN THE TEXTS

INTRODUCTION

Judith Becker

Dictionaries, or glossaries, should not be thought of as arbiters of usage; they are only compilations of usage from the point of view of the compiler. The terms given here share with all natural language vocabularies the phenomenon of multiple usages and diverse meanings. Our intention is not to prescribe or standardize usage, but only to reflect some of the meanings of these terms according to (1) the understanding of the authors represented, and (2) the textual sources at our disposal. Except for a few entries provided to expand upon or help clarify the meanings of the rest, only terms mentioned in the texts in volumes 1 and 2 of Karawitan are included. No meaning should be attached to the numbered order of the definitions for terms with multiple referents; definition 1 is no more frequent or acceptable than definitions 2 or 3. A few outside references were consulted to provide definitions supplementing those given in the texts. These are Bandem 1975; Horne 1974; Kunst 1973; McPhee 1966; Soedarsono et al. 1976; Soeharto 1978; Soetrisno 1976; and Udan Mas 1960.

For critical readings of, and helpful suggestions concerning, this glossary, I wish to thank Alan H. Feinstein, Martin Hatch, René T. A. Lysloff, Sumarsam, R. Anderson Sutton, Susan Pratt Walton, and Richard Wallis.

GLOSSARY

- aba: gestural signals performed in rehearsal or in performance to indicate to other musicians the correct pitch, a drum stroke, or the moment for a stroke on the kethuk, kempul, kenong, or gong.
- aba-aba: see aba.
- abon-abon: short phrases sung by the pesindhèn at unstressed positions within a gendhing. Contrasts with sindhènan srambahan.
- ada-ada: a kind of song of the category sulukan, sung by a dhalang in a wayang performance in order to portray a tense atmosphere (suasana tegang) or a critical situation (keadaan gawat), accompanied by gendèr and keprak (kepyak), sometimes punctuated by kendhang and gong.
- adangiah: see odangiyah.
- adangiyah: see odangiyah.
- adu manis: see kempyung.
- aja ngono: a term that refers to a particular vocal melodic pattern, and the way in which it is realized on rebab, gendèr, gambang, celempung, gendèr panerus, and suling.
- aksara: 1. a written syllable. 2. a letter of an alphabet. 3. a character of the Old Javanese script.
- alok: lit., 'to shout/yell'. Short vocal phrases of indefinite or indeterminate pitch inserted within a gendhing to enhance the mood.
- andhegan: stopping but not ending. With verbal prefix m it becomes mandheg: to come to a stop but not to end. Used in reference to gendhing in which the gamelan players stop, the pesindhèn sings alone briefly, then the musicians resume playing.
- andhegan gawan: an andhegan melody in which the text and its melody are used exclusively with one piece.
- andhegan gendhing: andhegan in which most of the instruments stop and the pesindhèn continues to sing.
- andhegan selingan: a fixed song, usually from one of the sekar poetic forms, inserted into a piece. The remaining gamelan players wait silently until the song is ended, then continue playing the piece.
- angkatan: 1. beginning. 2. transition.
- angkat-angkatan: 1. section of a gendhing. 2. a gendhing of two movements.

- angkatan ciblon: 1. the section of a gendhing in which the ciblon begins to play; or the transition section between irama II and irama III. 2. the part played by the ciblon to indicate the transition from irama II to irama III (Surakarta).
- angkatan dhawah: see angkat dhawah.
- angkatan inggah: see angkat dhawah.
- angkatan minggah: see angkat dhawah.
- angkatan mungguh: see angkat dhawah.
- angkatan seseg: the transition to, or beginning of, the section of a gendhing that is played fast (seseg).
- angkatan sindhèn: the point in a kenongan at which the pesindhèn begins the vocal melody for a particular musical phrase.
- angkatan ungguh: see angkat dhawah.
- angkat dhawah: the beginning of the dhawah (inggah) section or the transition to the dhawah (inggah) section from the mérong section of a gendhing.
- angkat inggah: see angkat dhawah.
- angkat minggah: see angkat dhawah.
- angkat mungguh: see angkat dhawah.
- angkat unggah: see angkat dhawah.
- angkep: see gembyangan.
- angklung: a bamboo idiophone.
- antal: slow tempo.
- antawacana: the specific speaking-style of each puppet in a wayang kulit performance.
- arang: lit., ‘infrequent, sparse’. Refers to the kethuk marking “kethuk 2 (or 4) arang (awis).”
- awis: see arang.
- ayak-ayakan: one of the formal structures of gamelan gendhing.
- ayu kuning: one of a series of terms that refer to a particular vocal melodic pattern and the text from which the term originates, and the way in which it is realized on the gendèr, gambang, rebab, gendèr panerus, and celempung.
- babarangan: see barangan.
- badhaya: see bedhaya.
- bahiri: see bèri.
- baku: basic, essential.
- baku swara: tonic.
- balungan: lit., ‘skeleton, frame’. 1. an underlying melody, which may be realized on the bonang panembung (Yogyakarta) or implied by the gendèr/rebab (Surakarta). 2. the part played by slenthem, saron demung, and/or saron barung.
- balungan dhawah: see balungan nibani.

balungan gendhing: see balungan.

balungan lampah: see balungan mlaku.

balungan mlaku: 1. stepwise balungan (no. 2) in which there are no rests.
2. stepwise balungan in which there may be rests, but not at regular intervals as in balungan nibani.

balungan mlampah: see balungan mlaku.

balungan narancag: a fast-moving balungan.

balungan ndhawahi: 1. see balungan nibani. 2. balungan as in the following example.

N	N	N	G
...6	.356	.532	.356

balungan ngadhal: balungan in which each sabetan contains two or more notes, for example, balungan nggantung: balungan with no melodic motion, in which a single tone is sustained, for example, 3 3 . . .

25 35 23 1

balungan nibani: balungan characterized by alternating ciphers and rests (pin), for example, . 5 . 6 .

balungan pin mundur: balungan in which there are rests (pin) at the accented points, for example, 2 . 1 . 2 . 2 6 .

balungan plèsèdan: balungan in which the melodic line of the sindhèn, kenong, or rebab part ends on a pitch that is: first, not the sèlèh tone; and, second, usually stressed in the succeeding gatra.

banyu mili: style of gambang playing almost entirely in octaves, evenly subdivided in fast, regular pulses involving continuous motion in both hands.

barang: one of the tones of the gamelan. In the kepatihan system of notation, sléndro, tone barang = 1; pélog, tone barang = 7.

barangan: 1. supporting instrumental parts in the gamelan. 2. the gamelan bebarangan. 3. itinerant street musicians.

barang miring: 1. a tuning that is neither sléndro nor pélog, sometimes employed by the rebab and pesindhèn. Barang miring is said to approach the scale of pélog barang, but is played in the context of sléndro. 2. a tuning that is basically sléndro but is mixed with pélog vocal pitch-levels. 3. the name of a gendhing, that is, Barang Miring.

- barungan: the melodic phrases played by the upper-octave bonang of the gamelan sekaten between the strokes of the balungan (demung) and/or the lower-octave bonang (panembung).
- bawa: 1. a vocal composition used as an introduction to a gendhing. The poetic form may be sekar ageng, sekar tengahan, or sekar macapat. 2. voice/singing.
- bawa suara: a short vocal melody for introducing a gendhing. Also see celuk.
- bebarangan: see barangan.
- bebendé: see bendhé.
- bebuka: see buka.
- bedhaya: a court dance of the palaces of Surakarta and Yogyakarta, usually performed only on such special occasions as a royal wedding or the anniversary of the coronation of a king.
- bedhayan: 1. bedhaya-like. 2. the style of vocal music used to accompany bedhaya.
- bedhug: a large pegged drum suspended from a rack and played with a padded mallet.
- beksan: dance.
- bem: 1. one of the tones of the pélog scale, bem = panunggul = 1 (kepatihan notation system). 2. a modal classification that groups together pélog nem and pélog lima (Yogyakarta). 3. a deep-sounding, right-hand stroke of the kendhang ageng.
- bendhé: a thick-walled hanging gong used in archaic ensembles such as the gamelan sekati/sekatèn of Yogyakarta.
- bère: see bèri.
- bèri: 1. a bossless hanging gong. 2. a pair of cymbals beaten with a hard mallet. Also see rojèh (no. 2).
- berpathut lima: see patut lima.
- bléru: lit., ‘dissonant, inharmonious, false’. Unintentional changes in gamelan or vocal tunings. Out of tune.
- bonang: a rack of ten, twelve, or fourteen small, horizontally suspended gongs arranged in two rows. 2. bonang barung.
- bonang barung: a mid-range set of bonang gongs.
- bonang gedhé: see bonang barung.
- bonang klenang: an archaic bonang found in gamelan monggang and gamelan kodhok ngorèk.
- bonang panembung: 1. a low-range, large set of bonang gongs (Yogyakarta). 2. the lower octave of the bonang of the gamelan sekaten (Surakarta).
- bonang panerus: a high-range, small set of bonang gongs.
- bonang penerus: see bonang panerus.
- bonang telu: a three-gong bonang.
- buka: the opening phrase, or introduction, of a gendhing.

- buka celuk: a buka that is a solo song. Also see celuk.
- buka gambang: a buka that is played on the gambang.
- buka gendèr: a buka that is played on the gendèr.
- buka kendhang: a buka that is played on the kendhang.
- buka rebab: a buka that is played on the rebab.
- byong: a Turkish crescent or bell tree found in the archaic gamelan Kangjeng Kyai Kebo Ganggang.
- byur: see rebab byur.
- calapita: see kemanak.
- calong: 1. see jublag. 2. gambang.
- caluri: suling.
- caluring: 1. suling. 2. see celuring.
- carita: narration of the dhalang without gamelan accompaniment.
- cariyos: see carita.
- cekak: brief, abridged.
- celempung: a trapezoidal zither.
- celuk: 1. the giving of a signal, to call. 2. a vocal introduction to a gendhing in which the text is taken from the same poem as that sung within the gendhing.
- celuring: 1. small cymbals played by striking one hand-cymbal against a cymbal mounted on a frame. Same as Balinese cèng-cèng. 2. a small saron with keys that look like overturned cups.
- cempala: the round, wooden knocker used by the dhalang to give signals to the gamelan, to punctuate sentences, and to create tension by fast, repeated knocking on the puppet box or against the kepyak.
- cèng-cèng: two small pair of Balinese cymbals in which one cymbal of each pair is mounted on a wooden frame.
- cèngkok: 1. melodic pattern, sometimes used interchangeably with wilet, played by the gendèr, rebab, gambang, suling, or celempung. 2. gongan/melodic pattern of one-gongan duration. 3. style, such as cèngkok Surabaya, or cèngkok Cirebon. 4. a melodic pattern consisting of two wilet, that is, a padhang and ulihan.
- cèngkok gawan: 1. cèngkok that are exclusive to only one gendhing. 2. texts that are exclusive to only one cèngkok in only one gendhing.
- cèngkok mati: fixed cèngkok.
- cèngkok rangkep: lit., ‘doubled’ cèngkok. Refers to the doubling of the melodic patterns when moving from irama III (irama wilet) to irama IV (irama rangkep).
- cenguk: a single exclamation such as “sooooo” or “ooooo” inserted in a piece, usually sung by the gérong.
- Chevé: refers to the Galin/Paris/Chevé system of notation (Paris, 1894) that served as the basis for the kepatihan system of notation.

ciblon: see kendhang ciblon.

dados: 1. irama dados = irama II. 2. the section of a gendhing that occurs after the tempo has settled and the saron part is mlaku (Yogyakarta). 3. to continue with another piece of the same formal structure as the preceding piece.

daya swara: dominant and/or subdominant tone.

degung: see gamelan degung.

demung: 1. see saron demung. 2. see slenthem gantung.

demung ageng: see saron demung ageng.

demung lantakan: see saron demung lantakan.

demung pencon: see saron demung ageng.

denggung: part of the title of some gendhing bonangan.

dhadha: one of the tones of the gamelan scale. In the kepatihan system of notation, dhadha = 3.

dhalang: 1. the puppeteer in a wayang kulit performance. 2. the person who sings the suluk from the wayang kulit repertoire while narrating and commenting upon the action of a wayang orang performance.

dhawah: 1. the section of a gendhing that follows the dados section. Also see inggah. 2. the second section of a gendhing, in which the melody (lagu) is basically the same as in the mérong section. This definition contrasts dhawah with inggah (no. 2). 3. the second section of a gendhing, in which the first section has two or four kethuk per kenong and the second section is in ladrang form. See also inggah ladrang. 4. see balungan nibani.

dhawahan: the playing of the saron and demung on stressed notes in the racikan.

dhing: the least important pitch-level of a given pathet.

dhing-dhong: the stress system of gamelan gendhing; dhing = unstressed beat, dhong = stressed beat. Dhong usually falls on the second and fourth beat of a four-beat unit, that is,

.	.	.	.
dhing	dhong	dhing	dhong
alit	alit	gedhe	gedhe

(Dhong alit = small dhong, dhong gedhé [ageng] = large dhong.)

dhodhogan: the sounds made by the striking of the cempala against the puppet box by the dhalang during a wayang kulit performance.

- dhong: 1. the most important pitch-level of a given pathet. 2. see dhing-dhong.
- dhong dhèng dhung dhang dhing: 1. mnemonics for the five tones of a sléndro or pélog scale. 2. see pupuh, no. 1.
- dhong-dhing: 1. the name for the ordering of the vowel sounds in the last syllable of each line of a sekar tengahan or sekar macapat. See guru-lagu. 2. a kind of Balinese musical notation (pupuh dhong-dhing).
- dolanan: 1. light songs often accompanied by gamelan. Since the song is primary, dolanan played by the gamelan often do not represent one of the regular formal structures of gamelan gendhing. 2. children's songs.
- dongèng: story.
- druta laya: fast tempo.
- eluk: lit., 'arc, curve, or wave'. 1. a vocal ornament. 2. a division of a gendhing consisting of two gatra.
- embat: 1. the raising or lowering of the pitch of the keys of the gamelan instruments. The nuances or 'correction' of a tuning system. 2. a comparison of the smallness or largeness of a particular gamelan tuning, the relative tuning of a gamelan or the intervallic structure of a gamelan.
- embat alam: natural tuning.
- embat buatan: an artificial tuning.
- embat colongan: a tuning in which the interval between two neighboring tones is made smaller or larger according to the desires of the tuner.
- embat kodrat: see embat alam.
- embat laras ati: 1. a tuning in which the intervals between the tone dhadha (3) and its lower neighbor, and between the tone dhadha and its upper neighbor, are widened. 2. a tuning that is 'energetic' and 'lively'. 3. a tuning that is lower than a basic tuning.
- embat lugu: 1. a tuning lacking a clear sequence of larger and smaller intervals. 2. a 'straightforward' tuning.
- embat nglaras ati: see embat laras ati.
- embat nyendari: 1. a tuning that is higher than a basic tuning. 2. a tuning in which the interval between the tone dhadha (3) and the tone gulu (2) is made smaller, or a tuning in which the interval between the tone dhadha and the tone lima (5) or pélog (4) is made smaller. 3. a tuning that gives rise to an unassuming, soft-spoken mood (rasa). 4. a tuning that is peaceful.
- embat nyenggani: a tuning that has the characteristic of 'senggani', or 'sounding together'.
- embat nyundari: see embat nyendari.
- embat sundari: see embat nyendari.
- enam: alternate spelling for nem, meaning pitch 6.
- enem: see enam.

engkuk: a small gong paired with the kemong, another small gong.

engkuk-kemong: the two small gongs, engkuk and kemong, referred to as a single instrument. They alternate strokes as do the more common kempyang and kethuk. Example: e k e t e k e . e k e t e k e (Key: e = engkuk; k = kemong; t = kethuk).

gambang: a xylophone with wooden or bamboo keys suspended over a wooden trough. Sometimes used interchangeably with gambang kayu.

gambang gangsa: like a gambang but with bronze keys.

inggah ladrangan: see inggah ladrang.

irama: 1. tempo, also known as laya. 2. rhythm. 3. refers to the different tempo relationships within a gongan or gendhing. Irama is the expanding and contracting of structural units such as the gatra and the degree or level at which the gatra is subdivided (or filled in). A gongan in irama I takes approximately half the time to perform as a gongan in irama II. Each change in irama either expands by two the time of the preceding irama level (irama I to irama II) or contracts by one-half the time of the succeeding irama level (irama II to irama I). The degree of subdivision can be measured according to the number of strokes on the saron panerus to one sabetan (beat) of the balungan. The chart below illustrates this and provides the common terms for the different levels of irama.

Irama Level	Irama Name	No. of Saron Penerus Strokes per Sabetan
1/2	lancar	1
I	tanggung	2
II	dados	4
III	wilet	8
IV	rangkep	16

irama ciblon: see irama wilet.

- sendarèn: see sundarèn.
- sendhal pancing: a rebab bowing technique.
- sendhon: 1. one of the categories of suluk, sung by the dhalang to invoke a sad or moving atmosphere, accompanied by gendèr, gambang, and suling (Surakarta) or gendèr, gambang, suling, and rebab (Yogyakarta). 2. like a pathetan but in the pélog tuning system, that is, sendhon lima, sendhon nem, and sendhon barang.
- sendhon pathet: pathetan specifically of vocal origin.
- senggakan: nonsense syllables inserted within the main vocal melody of a gendhing sung by members of the gérong. They may be one, two, or four gatra in length.
- sènggol: 1. (Sundanese) melodic pattern, similar to wilet. 2. (Sundanese) vocal ornament, like a turn.
- senggrèngan: the last rebab phrase of a pathetan. Often played as a brief prelude to the buka of a gendhing or before the opening pathetan of a gendhing.
- serancak: one rancak (‘set’).
- serimpi: see srimpi.

seseḡ: fast, usually refers to tempo.

seseḡan: the fast section of a gendhing, often occurring at the end of the piece.

sindhèn: singing.

sindhènan: songs sung by the pesindhèn. 2. songs sung by the pesindhèn and/or gérong.

sindhènan baku: 'basic' sindhènan.

sindhènan bedhaya: sindhènan used with gendhing that accompany bedhaya dances.

sindhènan isèn-isèn: see abon-abon.

sindhènan limrah: see sindhènan srambahan.

sindhènan sekar: sindhènan texts that have their origin in sekar poetic forms sung with gendhing.

sindhènan srambahan: a sindhènan that has the same importance as any other instrument of the gamelan.

sinenggakan: see senggakan.

singgetan: 1. sectioning. 2. section markers, referring to the function of some of the instruments of the gamelan. 3. patterns that mark boundaries, which are played on the ciblon drum.

sinom: a sekar macapat poetic form.

sirep: to play gamelan quietly.

sirepan: quiet gamelan playing while the dhalang narrates in a wayang kulit or wayang orang performance.

siter: a zither.

siter panerus: a small zither, tuned one octave above the regular siter.

slawatan: the singing, usually by men, of the Koran text concerning the birth of Muhammad, to the accompaniment of terbang or kendhang, and sometimes kemanak, while dancing in a sitting position.

sléndro: the tuning category in which the octave is divided into five intervals, which are more uniform than those of the pélog category.

sléndro miring: see barang miring.

slenthem: 1. a large-keyed, single-octave metallophone, tuned one octave below the saron demung, whose thin keys are suspended over bamboo or zinc resonators (gendèr family). 2. a large-keyed, single-octave metallophone, of the gendèr family but with a raised boss (pencon) in the middle of each key. See also slenthem pencon.

slenthem ageng: 1. a slenthem that sounds an octave lower than the usual slenthem. 2. a knobbed, single-octave metallophone whose keys are suspended over a trough resonator (that is, saron family). See also saron demung ageng.

sundari: a type of gamelan tuning. See embat sundari.

surupan: Sundanese modal categories.

sutra swara: finely woven sound.

suwuk: lit., 'end'. 1. the gongan on which a piece ends. 2. a special section added to the final gongan (sampak, srepegan, ayak-ayakan). 3. a substitute section at the end of the final gongan.

suwukan: 1. a special section for ending a gendhing. See suwuk (nos. 2 and 3). 2. gong suwukan.

swara: see suara.

swarantara: intervals.

swarawati: the pesindhèn with a gamelan.

tabang-tabang: see terbang.

tabuh: 1. mallet for striking instruments of the gamelan. 2. a Balinese classification system of the formal structures of gamelan pieces. Balinese terminology refers to the length of the unit marked off by a stroke on the largest gong. The terminology is not used consistently between different genres of gamelan. For gamelan gong the tabuh classification is as follows.

tabuh pisan (one) = 8 strokes per gongan

tabuh dua (two) = 32 strokes per gongan

tabuh telu (three) = 48 strokes per gongan

tabuh pat (four) = 64 strokes per gongan

tabuh kutus = twice the gongan length of tabuh pat tabuhan: an instrument of the gamelan struck with a mallet.

tabuhan barangan: instruments that play supporting parts.

tabuhan penerusan: see tabuhan terusan.

tabuhan ricikan: instruments that play essential parts in the gamelan.

tabuhan terusan: instruments that fill in between the essential parts.

talu: a gendhing or a series of gendhing played as an introduction to, or an opening of, a wayang kulit performance. The gendhing themselves are called gendhing talu or patalon.

tamban: see irama tamban.

tanggung: see irama tanggung.

tarawangsa: Sundanese spiked fiddle.

tari: dance.

tatabuhan: see tabuhan.

tebokan bem: the larger head of the ciblon drum.

tebokan kempyang: the smaller head of the ciblon drum.

tembang: see sekar.

tembang gedhé see sekar ageng.

tembang macapat: see sekar macapat.

tembang tengahan: see sekar tengahan.

terbang: a frame drum.

terompong: a Balinese gamelan instrument consisting of a row of small horizontally suspended gongs, similar to the Javanese bonang.

teteg: a small bedhug or kendhang ageng shaped like a bedhug.

tetembangan: singing.

thinthingan: 1. the playing of the four principal tones of the pathet in a descending order on the gendèr. 2. the style of accompanying bawa and andegan on gendèr.

thong-thong: a bronze slit-gong struck with a wooden mallet.

thuthukan: instruments of the gamelan struck with mallets.

thuthukan rangkep: a style of playing (saron, gendèr, gambang, and bonang) in which the patterns of one irama are doubled when played in the next highest irama.

thuthukan sabetan: vigorous playing.

thuthukan sodhèkan: see sodhèkan.

tingkat irama: levels of irama, that is, irama I, irama II, irama III, and so on.

titilaras: notaton.

titilaras andha: step or ladder notation.

titilaras damina: a variant of sariswara notation compiled by Machjar Angga Kusumadinata.

titilaras kepatihan: notation developed by Radèn Mas Tumenggung Wrek-sadiningrat, ca. 1900.

titilaras nut angka: see titilaras kepatihan.

titilaras ranté: a system of notation using a staff of five or seven lines.

titilaras sariswara: notation developed by Dr. Ki Hadjar Dewantara, the founder of the Taman Siswa schools, in 1928.

titiraras: see titilaras.

tlèdhèk: a female dancer/singer (or transvestite) who collects fees for street performances accompanied by a small gamelan. Also called runggèng.

trompong: see terompong.

tumbuk: the common tone or tones between a particular sléndro gamelan and a particular pélog gamelan.

ulihan: a consequent phrase, preceded by padhang, an antecedent phrase.

umpak: 1. an opening gongan of a gendhing, usually played twice, followed by a ngelik. 2. a transition section of a gendhing, which indicates the form of the following inggah (dhawah), consisting of one or two kenongan or a whole gongan. 3. the section of a gendhing at the end of the piece but preceding the suwuk. 4. the metered gendèr part at the end of certain sulukan.

- umpak inggah: same as umpak (no. 2), except that the transition is led by the rhythmic leader of the gamelan.
- umpak-umpak: see embat.
- umpak-umpakan: 1. a transition to an inggah in which the transition already has the structure and melody of the following inggah. See umpak (no. 2).
2. a transition to a sesegan.
- umpak-umpak merata: see ompak-ompak merata.
- unggah: see inggah.
- ura-ura: 1. to sing for one's own pleasure in a quiet place such as the edge of a rice field or on a lonely road. 2. to sing nonclassical songs. 3. see uran-uran.
- uran-uran: the singing of sekar macapat accompanied by gendèr, gambang, kenong, kempul, gong, and kendhang. Also called rambangan (Yogyakarta) or palaran.
- uyon-uyon: see klenèngan.
- uyon-uyon gadhon: playing gamelan gadhon for pleasure.
- wanda: 1. syllable. 2. a particular manifestation of a wayang puppet.
- wangsalan: a two-line, poetic riddle, with twelve syllables in each line, in which a word or group of words suggests through assonance or synonymity another word found later in the poem. Often used as a sindhèn text in a gendhing.
- wantah: ordinary, basic, unadorned, nothing added.
- wayang: lit., 'shadow'. 1. wayang kulit. 2. a generic term referring to any traditional dramatic performance accompanied by gamelan.
- wayang bèbèr: a wayang performance in which the scenes of the story are depicted upon painted cloth.
- wayang gedhog: a shadow-puppet play accompanied by a pélog gamelan depicting stories from the East Javanese Panji epic.
- wayang klithik: a performance with flat, wooden puppets depicting stories from the East Javanese Damar Wulan epic, traditionally accompanied by a pélog gamelan.
- wayang kulit: 1. a shadow-puppet performance, traditionally accompanied by a sléndro gamelan, depicting stories from the Mahābhārata and Rāmāyaṇa epics. 2. any shadow-puppet theater, for example, wayang gedhog or wayang madya.
- wayang kulit purwa: 1. repertoire of shadow-puppet plays in which the stories are based upon (1) the Indian epics Mahābhārata, Rāmāyaṇa, and Bhārata Yudha; (2) the Arjuna Sasra Bau cycle; and (3) stories set in prehistoric Java, traditionally accompanied by a sléndro gamelan. Often used interchangeably with wayang kulit.

- wayang madya: a wayang kulit tradition created in the nineteenth century, accompanied by a pélog gamelan. Wayang madya stories begin at the point at which the Mahābhārata stories end.
- wayang orang: dance-drama with spoken dialogue and stories based upon the Mahābhārata and Rāmāyaṇa epics, accompanied by both a sléndro and a pélog gamelan.
- wayang purwa: see wayang kulit purwa.
- wayang wong: see wayang orang.
- wetah: complete, nothing left out.
- wilah: a single slab, or key, of a gamelan instrument.
- wilahan: 1. the keys of the slab instruments of the gamelan. 2. the names of the tones in the sléndro and pélog tuning system, for example, wilahan panunggul, wilahan gulu, and so on.
- wilambita laya: slow tempo.
- wiled: see wilet.
- wiledan: see wiletan.
- wilet: 1. see cèngkok (no. 2). 2. melodic patterns played on gendèr, gambang, and rebab, sometimes used interchangeably with cèngkok. 3. the two sections of a cèngkok; the first wilet is called padhang, the second is called ulihan. 4. the melodic ornaments of a melody such as luk and gregel.
- wiletan: 1. the creation of melodic patterns on a gendèr, gambang, or rebab. 2. (Sundanese) gatra.
- wirama: 1. see irama. 2. (Balinese) Old Javanese or Sanskrit prosody observing long/short vowel qualities.
- wirèng: a combat dance performed by two dancers (Surakarta).

APPENDIX 2

JAVANESE CIPHER NOTATION
(TITILARAS KEPATIHAN)
OF MUSICAL PIECES MENTIONED
IN THE TEXTS

INTRODUCTION

Judith Becker

This appendix of approximately 750 musical pieces, or gendhing, has been compiled for the convenience of the reader who may not know, or may not have access to, the notation of gendhing mentioned in the texts. The printed sources for this appendix are from different time periods and of varying provenance, although the majority represent the Surakarta style. The notation of a gendhing may vary widely, not only between areas but sometimes within a single tradition as well. To include in this appendix all the variants of a single gendhing would be cumbersome at best, and nearly impossible in some instances, as no collector nor any collection of gendhing can encompass all the diverse manifestations of a given piece. Some variant versions have been included here, however, to give the reader inexperienced with this phenomenon an idea of the kinds of variation encountered. The word variant is not intended to imply the presence of an “ur” text. All instances of a given gendhing are its variants.

In some respects, the notation system used here has been standardized, in some respects not. I have settled on a compromise between complete standardization, which would falsify the sources, and a faithful rendering of the notation from the sources, which would make comparisons difficult and put a heavy burden on the reader who is unfamiliar with the many notational styles used in Central Java. All the sources but two (Kunst 1973, “checkered script”; and Hood 1954, Western notation) use some version of kepatihan (cipher) notation. The standardization adopted here includes the following adjustments.

1. All instances of the cipher 7, which is used to indicate upper octave 1 in sléndro, have been changed to 1.
2. No upper or lower octave indicators (for example, 6 or 1̇) have been included. Often they do not appear in the sources, are not consistently included, or do not agree with other sources. Admittedly, for some kinds of research, this is a critical omission.
3. The symbols for gong, kenong, kempul, kethuk, kempyang, and repeats have been standardized as follows.

G = gong
 N = kenong
 P = kempul
 t = kethuk
 py = kempyang
 [] = repeated section

The range of notational variation before the general adoption of kepatihan notation was substantial. Given below are examples of the kind of notational variants that are commonly encountered, particularly in older collections of gendhing.

Djakoeb and Wignjaroemeksa. Serat Enoet Gendhing Slendro. Batavia: Landsdrukkerij, 1919.

G = gong
 N = kenong
 ● = kethuk
 W = buka (wiwitan)

Poerbapangrawit, R. M. Kodrat. Gendhing Djawa. Jakarta: Harapan Masa, 1955.

° = gong (for example, 2 1 2 5°)
 " = kenong (for example, 2 1 2 5")
 * = kempul (for example, 2 1 2 5*)

Probohardjono, R. Ng. S. Gendhing-gendhing ingkang kanggé Nabuhi Wajangan Purwa. Yogyakarta: Usaha Penerbitan P. T. Sinduniti, 1957.

G = gong
 N = kenong
 P = kempul
 k = kethuk

Tiknopranoto, R. M. Ng. Titi Laras Gendhing Djawa Muljaning Agesang. Trijasa, Surakarta, 1963.

G = gong
 N = kenong
 P = kempul
 K = kethuk

pj = kempyang
 W = buka (wiwitan)

Gitosapradja, S. Titilaras Gendhing Djawi. Malang, 1971.

○ = gong
 ◯ = kenong
 ◡ = kempul
 ^ = kethuk
 ' = kempyang

For the most part, in this appendix, only kethuk, kenong, and gong are indicated. In many instances, the kethuk markings have been added by the editor. Kempul is marked only for the categories sampak, srepegan, and ayak-ayakan in which kempul is a substitute gong, and in special instances, such as Srundèng Gosong, in which the kempul cannot be predicted.

4. The amount of information found after the title of a gendhing and the style of presentation of that information have been standardized. If kethuk markings were not indicated in the original work after the title of a gendhing they have been added to the notation but not added to the title.
5. Another kind of standardization involves the convention of halving note values. According to the Galin-Paris-Chev system (1894) on which kepatihan notation is based, the symbols 56 76 are read as in which the first cipher of the halved unit falls on the beat. However, in Javanese gamelan music, the note between two stressed notes conceptually “belongs” to the following, not the preceding, note. Thus a confusion of usage is found in Javanese notation: sometimes 56 means and sometimes it means

I have decided that, in spite of the possible conceptual distortion, it is generally simpler to print 56 as meaning as in the Galin-Paris-Chev model. Thus, kethuk or kenong will always fall on the first cipher of such a unit, that is,

$$\frac{t}{56}$$

6. For the ease of the reader, all notations have been divided into gatra, or four-note units (2353, 6532, etc.).

Aspects of the notation that have not been standardized—in other words, those that retain some of the diversity of the sources—are as follows.

1. The use or non-use of dots to indicate irama. Irama changes are explicit in some notations, for example, Gendhing Majemuk, irama III, but more generally are not marked or are not consistently marked.
2. A number of different but equivalent terms are used in the sources and retained in this appendix. These terms refer to the sections of a gendhing (for example, buka or bubuka) and to certain terms for kethuk markings for a gendhing (for example, awis or arang). In addition, the variant terms for one kind of formal structure, bubaran and bibaran, have been retained. These terms are as follows.

buka/ bubuka

odangiah/ adangiah

umpak/ ompak/ umpak minggah/ ompak inggah/ umpak bad minggah/ ompak bad minggah/ pangkat dhawah minggah kendhang/ munggah kendhang

ciblon/ irama III

seseg/ sesegan

suwuk/ suwukan

minggah/ munggah/ inggah/ unggah/ dhawah/ ndhawah

awis/ arang

bubaran/ bibaran

3. The terms lancaran and ladrang are not always used consistently. In Surakarta, Singa Nebah is called a lancaran, while Sembung Gilang is called a ladrang. In Yogyakarta, both would be called bibaran.

The source of the notation of each gendhing is indicated by a number corresponding to the following list.

Notation could not be found for a number of gendhing mentioned in the texts. The titles of some gendhing probably have changed over time and these actually may be included in this appendix under a different name. Similar titles, which may represent the missing gendhing, are also listed. Other gendhing may simply have been lost through disuse.

Gendhing for Which Notation Has Not Been Found

Abu Sinta, Gendhing (possibly Madu Sita, Gendhing)
 Among Raras, Ladrang (possibly Among-among, Ladrang)
 Ayak-ayakan Umbul Donga
 Barang Kinasih, Ladrang (possibly Barang, Lancaran)

APPENDIX 3

BIOGRAPHIES OF AUTHORS

Gitosaprodjo, Drs. R. M. [Radèn Mas] Sulaiman

Born on May 13, 1934, at Purwakerta, Gitosaprodjo lived in Solo (Surakarta) from 1935 to 1958. His formal education included courses in economics and the training program for high school teachers. He received his degree in 1958 from the Teachers' Training Institute (Economics, B.A. in 1968, Drs. in 1976). Informal training in karawitan began at the age of ten, with lessons from his uncle. Later he studied general karawitan, sindhèn, gérong, and bawa privately with teachers from the Indonesian Conservatory of Karawitan at Surakarta [Konservatori Karawitan Indonesia Surakarta], from the Indonesian Academy of Karawitan at Surakarta [Akademi Seni Karawitan Indonesia, Surakarta], and from the gamelan group of Radio Republic Indonesia at Surakarta. From 1958 to 1960 he was a teacher of economics at senior high schools in Palembang and Salatiga, and from 1961 to 1966 he served as a civil servant with the Indonesian Mining Department at Cilacap. He then spent ten years teaching at high schools and teachers colleges in Majakerta and Malang. From 1977 to the present he has been a civil servant with the Indonesian Department of Public Works at Solo. In the field of karawitan, between 1969 and 1976, he served as director of the gamelan ensemble at Radio Republic Indonesia at Malang and director of various gamelan ensembles there.

Information supplied by the author. Translated by J. Becker.

Martopangrawit, R. L. [Radèn Lurah]

On Wednesday Wagé, the third day of the month of Mulud, in the year 1845 [A.J.], Jimawal Mongso the sixth, Windu Sengara—or, 4 April 1912 [A.D.]—God gave a boy-child to the family of Mas Ngabèhi Wirawiyaga of Surakarta. He was given the name Soejitno, and is now a famous figure in karawitan called Martopangrawit. His father was mantri niyaga [court musician] of the kadipatèn and his mother was abdi dalem niyaga [court musician] of the kasepuhan.¹

On 25 April 1984, Pak Marto was given the title Bupati Anom Anom-anom by Paku Buwana XII of Surakarta, with the name Radèn Tumenggung Martodipura. However, although he holds the title Tumenggung, he prefers to be called simply “Pak Marto” because he is not interested in titles and the like.

His father died when he was four years old. Soejitno was adopted by his grandfather, whose name was Mas Ngabèhi Purwapangrawit, the elder. His grandfather always took the boy with him on his travels and gave him instruction in karawitan. Thus the soul of pengrawit was formed within Soejitno, who soon immersed himself in karawitan.

Pak Marto's mother died when he was thirteen years old and only his grandfather was left to care for him. As he was intelligent, he quickly absorbed the knowledge imparted by his grandfather. Because he was resolute and determined (indeed, he clearly took the initiative in his study of karawitan), when he was very young he became an abdi dalem niyaga in the kraton of Surakarta.

In the year 1935, Bapak Martopangrawit was already teaching about the hidden truths of karawitan. Among these is a theory of pathet, which is much discussed by scholars from both the West and from Indonesia. Many topics were researched by Pak Marto; matters that were unclear became clear, and matters that became clear were spread to every person who studied karawitan.

In the year 1948, at the request of Governor Sutardjo of Central Java, Pak Marto became director of karawitan activities in Central Java. At that time, despite the fact that he was still a court musician, he became a civil servant of the Republic of Indonesia, in the Ministry of Education and Culture, along with Bapak Warsopangrawit, Bapak Mloyowidodo, and Bapak Puspallito. Only a short time later the Ministry of Education and Culture was forced to disband as a result of the Second World War.

In the year 1951, the Indonesian Music Conservatory was opened. The faculty absorbed Bapak Pangrawit's knowledge, for the benefit of the public at large.

In the year 1964, the Akademi Seni Karawitan Indonesia [ASKI] was opened in Surakarta, and at that time Pak Marto continued to contribute to the upper levels of artistic studies. He wrote books about karawitan, published by both ASKI and the conservatory, which were widely dispersed throughout the world. In addition, Pak Marto was a major contributor to informal discussions, seminars, meetings, and conferences concerned with the Javanese arts.

It may be said that his compositions are so numerous that they cannot be counted, ranging from gendhing that stand alone to suites of gendhing that accompany sendratari, for example, suites for the Ramāyana Prambanan [dance-dramas performed at the Prambanan temple complex], the National Ramāyana Festival, and the International Ramāyana Festival at East Java, along with the sendratari Bangun Majapahit, produced by the Pusat Pengembangan Kesenian Jawa Tengah [PKJT, the Center for the Development of the Arts of Central Java] at Surakarta, and many others.

Pak Marto also documented in notation gendhing bedhayan and gendhing pakurmatan such as gendhing sekatèn, monggang, kodhok ngorèk, and cara balèn, for which the method of playing the instruments was almost forgotten. His vast contributions to the people have been recognized by the government from the regional level (the city of Surakarta), to the provincial level (the province of Central Java), to the national level (the Republic of Indonesia).

In the year 1973, Mayor Bapak Koesnandar designated him as a model citizen of the city of Surakarta.

In the year 1977, he received the “Hadiah Seni” [Arts Gift] from the province of Central Java, along with the “Anugerah Seni” [Arts Gift] from the government of Indonesia.

Poerbapangrawit, R. M. K. [Radèn Mas Kangjeng]

The intimate name of Poerbapangrawit was Kodrat Lesyan. He was the son of K. R. M. T. [Kangjeng Radèn Mas Tumenggung] Poerbadipuro. He became surah niyaga [head of musicians] at the palace in Solo. Poerbapangrawit was the brother of Poerbatjaraka.

Information supplied by Radèn Mas Johny Lesnar, half-brother of Poerbapangrawit. Translated by J. Becker.

Poerbatjaraka, Prof. Dr. R. M. Ng. [Radèn Mas Ngabèhi]

[The following are excerpts from the introduction to Poerbatjaraka, Tjerita Pandji Dalam Perbandingan. The introduction was written by Drs. Zuber Usman.]

Mpu Professor R. M. [Radèn Mas] Ngabèhi Poerbatjaraka.

Born January 1, 1884; died July 25, 1964.

The first time the writer encountered the intellectual named above was in 1938, when he [Poerbatjaraka] worked at the Jakarta Museum as researcher and cataloguer of manuscripts written in Javanese. The writer was attracted and impressed by his parental kindness and the friendships he maintained with the young people. Later the writer became his student in the degree program of the literature faculty of the National University in Jakarta (1957–1959). . . . At that time there was a demand for his services in other places, especially in Yogyakarta. Several times scheduled lectures were cancelled. One afternoon, when it had already been announced that we would not receive a lecture, he knocked on my door; summoning us in his usual way, he said, “This afternoon, we will have a lecture.”

That day he had not left town and apparently had walked from his house on Sumenap Street to my house on Sumatra Street. It was hot. I invited him to ride in a pedicab to the lecture hall, the Kanisius Building, but he refused, saying, “Why should we ride in a pedicab? It is better that we walk.”

I had known of his fondness for walking since our first meeting in 1938, when he lived across from the Tanah Abang Mosque and my house was nearby. The people who lived in the neighborhood of the Tanah Abang Mosque, Karet Street, the Kebun Kacang [Peanut garden], or the Bali village, still remember him wearing a white jacket with a stiff collar, a batik kain [traditional Javanese skirt worn by both men and women], and a blangkon [traditional, close-fitting, batik hat]. Sometimes when it was hot he wore a hat on top of the blangkon. The people recall that each day he walked to the museum and home again. Sometimes on Sunday morning he could be found playing gamelan at the museum pendhapa [open-sided, pillared, audience hall] along with all the other musicians. His sharp and lively glance would be directed at the audience, which always packed in to listen. Until his old age, until he was eighty, Pak Poerbo stood erect, not bent, simply but neatly dressed, a reflection of his personality.

Education and Work. His intimate name was Lesiya. He was born in Solo. At first, Lesiya entered a Javanese elementary school, later he entered ELS[?], which was exclusively for Dutch children, Javanese children of high government officials, and the children of other prominent Javanese. After leaving ELS (in 1900) he worked and studied at the government office of archaeology. Although Lesiya Poerbatjaraka graduated from a Dutch school, he remained attached to his own language and culture. He loved reading Old Javanese books. While working at the office of archaeology, he already displayed a talent and expertise that astonished the Dutch scholars there. Based upon his knowledge and wide reading of kakawin literature and other Javanese books, he performed no small service to the interpretation of Indonesian temple reliefs and statues. . . .

When Poerbatjaraka was working as a government official at the Hadiningrat Surakarta Kraton [palace] with the rank of mantri [minister], Dr. G. A. J. Hazen recognized his talents and enthusiasm. He was sent to the Netherlands to further his studies and graduated with a degree from Leiden University. During that year, he submitted his thesis, entitled “Agastya in den Archipel,” which was brilliantly defended. After receiving his doctorate, he returned to his homeland.

Professor Poerbatjaraka as Father and Pioneer of the Study of Indonesian Literature. He was granted the title Professor by Gajah Mada University in Yogyakarta, the first university of the Republic of Indonesia, a school with which he was involved since its inception. . . . In the study of Old Javanese literature, or Kawi literature, Professor Dr. R. M. Ngabèhi Poerbatjaraka has no equal. . . .

Purbodiningrat, Prof. Ir. [Engineer] B. K. R. T.
[Bupati Kangjeng Radèn Tumenggung]

Purbodiningrat was born in Yogyakarta on March 23, 1904. He was the son of K. G. P. A. A. [Kangjeng Gusti Pangéran Anom Angabèhi] Sudibya Raja Putra Naréndra Mataram, the crown prince [the son of Sultan Hamengku Buwana VII], who died before his coronation as sultan.

He began his schooling at the palace, attended Dutch colonial primary, junior, and senior high schools, and graduated from the School of Engineering, Technische Hoge School, Bandung, in 1929, with a degree in civil engineering. Purbodiningrat held various jobs as a public works engineer in Yogyakarta, taught mathematics in a high school, and was at one time associate director of the Sana Budaya Museum in Yogyakarta. In 1948 he was a lecturer in physics and chemistry at University Islam Indonesia in Yogyakarta, and from 1950 until his death he was a professor of civil engineering at Gajah Mada University in Yogyakarta.

Probohardjono, R. Ng. [Radèn Ngabèhi] Samsudjin

[The author used no first-person pronouns in the autobiography translated and reproduced below. The original style has been maintained as far as possible.]

[I was] born on Sunday, July 2, 1916, in the village of Tegalmulya, the ward of Purwasari, subdistrict Lawinyan, regency of the city of Surakarta, the child of Hardjowikarto, whose business was making batik at Lawiyan and who had a total of five children, three sons and two daughters. Schooling only as far as the first year of junior high school, called MULO (Meer Uitgebreid Lager Onderwijs). Schooling finished in 1935.

While still small [I] was very fond of watching wayang kulit performances, and thus bought wayang puppets made of cardboard, which were sold at the market, until [I] had collected hundreds of cardboard puppets. Then played at being a dhalang, imitating what [I] heard and saw. Since the age of ten was active in studying karawitan, especially singing, and also a little dancing. Since at that time [I] was already well known as a singer of bawa and gérong at parties, festivities, and the like, [I] was asked to give lessons in bawa and gérong to the young men and women in karawitan groups in the villages. [I] also used to join small gamelan ensembles (siter, gendèr, kendhang, kemodhong) that wandered along the paths of the village areas in the city of Surakarta.

At the age of nineteen [I] began studying the art of the dhalang under the guidance of Ki Sororeso at the dhalang school at Surakarta, PADASUKA (Pasinaon Dhalang Surakarta) at the museum Radya Pustaka Sri Wedari, the first school for dhalang studies in all of Indonesia. In 1935 for the first time [I] performed all night. The story was Irawan Rabi [Irawan's wedding] for the celebration of the wedding of a member of my family from the village of Tegalmulya. The performance was a success and was praised by all the experts and by the audience.

Following that event [I] performed as dhalang in many places: in 1948 at the palace of the President in Yogyakarta; at RRI [Radio Republic Indonesia], Yogyakarta; at RRI, Solo [Surakarta]; at RRI, Madiun; at the palace in Solo; and also at various places in Central Java, West Java, East Java, Sumatra, Kalimantan, and, in the year 1955, in Malaysia.

In the time of Sri Sunan Paku Buwana X of Solo, [I] was called to become a court servant at the palace, but left shortly thereafter because [I] had so much work outside the palace and also was helping with the business of my parents. In 1938, assisted teaching at the school for dhalangs, PADASUKA, which had moved to Kesatriyan Kraton Surakarta [male quarters of the palace] and also helped with the contents of the monthly magazine Pedalangan [Art of the dhalang]. However, all that stopped with the occupation of Solo by the Japanese army.

In 1939, [I] became a member of the Pengurus Perkumpulan Dalang [Organization of dhalangs] in Surakarta, and also became a member of several arts organizations in the city of Solo. In 1950, after Indonesian independence, along with all prominent artists and intellectuals, helped to found the organization Himpunan Budaya Surakarta [Surakarta cultural association], became its first director, and later became the editor-in-chief of the monthly magazine Pedalangan from 1951 to 1957.

[I] helped to found the conservatory school in Surakarta and later, in 1953, taught dhalang studies there. [I] helped to found Panunggaling Dalang Republik Indonesia [Union of Indonesian dhalangs] (PADRI), which had its center in Solo, and became its director. [I] became the first secretary responsible for organizing the All-Indonesia Congress of Dhalangs (Konggres Dalang Seluruh Indonesia), the first meeting of which was held at the Prangwedanan Mangku Negaran [the mansion of the prince Prangwedana of the Mangku Negara palace], Solo, in the year 1958.

Since the PADRI organization had not been active for a long time, in the year 1966, along with other dhalangs, we founded the Himpunan Kebaktian Dhalang [Association of dedicated dhalangs] and [I] was appointed to the Dewan Ahli [Council of experts]. However, within one year it was replaced by the Lembaga Pembina Seni Pedalangan Indonesia [Council for the development of the art of the dhalang in Indonesia], abbreviated GANASIDI. Also [I] was appointed director of the Dewan Ahli, a position [I] still hold. [I] gave support and helped to found the Universitas Negeri Surakarta “Sebelas Maret” [State University Surakarta, “11th March”] and gave lectures there in the fields of literature and history.

In 1961, [I] was ordered to offer classes on the art of the dhalang, bawa, and gérong for the commoners and the royal family at the palace, and was given the title Radèn Ngabèhi Samsudjin Probohadjono. In 1968 was appointed to teach at the Akademi Seni Karawitan Indonesia in Solo, as assistant teacher in the Department of Dhalang Studies. In 1977, was asked to offer classes at the Akademi Sekretaris Manajemen Indonesia [Indonesian academy of secretarial and management studies], abbreviated ASMI, by the Yayasan Dharma Pancasila [Foundation for the support of pancasila] in Solo.

In 1931, [I] was a contributor of articles for the weekly Jakarta journal Kejawèn [Javanese culture], which was published by a semiofficial agency of the colonial administration. Later, was active in writing articles for several Javanese magazines, including Penyebar Semangat [The spread of enthusiasm] at Surabaya; Jayabaya [the title of a book of prophecy named after a legendary thirteenth-century king of East Java] at Kedhiri; Candra [Moon] at Semarang; and others. At the present time, am a member of the Council of Editors, whose names are listed on the cover of the magazine/newspaper Dharma Kanda at Surakarta, the magazine Mekar Sari, and correspondent for the daily newspaper Berita Yudha at Jakarta. Also, was the editor-in-chief of the magazine Pedalangan from 1951 to 1957, and also was the person responsible for the police newspaper in Surakarta from 1969 to 1972.

Writings that have been published as books total sixteen, including:

Sulukan Sléndro, published nine times.

Sulukan Pélog.

Pakem Lakon Wayang Purwa [Plot summaries from the wayang kulit repertoire], five volumes, some of which have been published three times.

Gending-gending Wayangan Kulit Purwa [Gendhing from the wayang kulit repertoire], published three times

Tuntunan Andalang Lengkap Lakon Parta Krama [A complete manual for the dhalang's performance of the story "Parta Krama"], already performed and also used as a source of instruction at ASKI [Akademi Seni Karawitan Indonesia].

Langen Swara, the most complete collection of bawa, gérong, sekar ageng, tengahan, and macapat.

There are many others.

Within the organization Ikatan Penerbit Indonesia [Union of Indonesian publishers], abbreviated IKAPI, in the year 1966, [I] was chosen to become the manager of the Surakarta branch, and in 1968 was chosen to be the chairman of the Surakarta branch.

From 1961 to 1963, became the head of the organization Persatuan Wartawan Indonesia [Union of Indonesian journalists], abbreviated PWI, and now am cosecretary of the Surakarta branch.

Sastrapustaka, B. Y. H. [Benedictus Yusuf Harjamulya]

This entry is a translation of a document supplied by B.Y.H. Sastrapustaka. The undersigned attests that the life history below is truthful. Included are letters of appointment and official statements. [The latter are not included here.]

Born 1910. Short name—Harjamulya.

From birth I lived at the palace [Yogyakarta] because my mother was the wet nurse for the son of Sri Sultan [Hamengku Buwana] VIII. At that time he was not yet sultan. The sultan was still his father, Sultan [Hamengku Buwana] VII. At the Yogyakarta palace, the employment of a wet nurse to suckle the son of the sultan was common practice. I was still a baby and was also suckled by my mother. I suckled first, and when I was full, only then did my mother suckle the son of the sultan.

Since the age of eight I have always been happy playing gamelan. My great-grandfather, my grandfather, and my father were singers for bedhaya and srimpi, and dance teachers at the palace. My siblings were two. My elder brother danced wayang orang and my elder sister danced bedhaya or srimpi at the palace. Every Saturday night there was a wayang kulit performance at the palace. I would approach the player of the saron and he would allow me to play. The saron musician was afraid that I might be a son of the sultan. I was eight years old at that time. When I was nine years old I entered primary school. In 1924 I received my certificate. I became a female dancer in wayang orang. At that time all female parts in wayang orang were danced by male children, for in those days females were forbidden to dance wayang orang.

In 1929 I became a court servant. I wished to continue my education. I was granted permission to enter a school for elementary teachers, passed the examination, graduated, and received my certificate. I then returned to the palace and worked in the library. In 1942 I married Christina Suhartati. In 1950 I became a teacher in the elementary school of the Institute Kanisius Yogyakarta.

Beginning in the year 1926 I studied karawitan wherever there was a gamelan ensemble; I did not use notation. In 1950 I became a teacher of karawitan with the Paguyubab Katulik Cipta Budaya [Catholic cultural association]. In 1955 I received a letter of appointment from the Netherlands, from the director of the Kanisius School, Pastor D. C. Wammes, Order of Jesuits, who had decided to make me head of the school. In 1955 I also received an appointment from the Vicarate Apostolic in Semarang to be one of the members of the committee for arranging Javanese songs accompanied by gamelan for use in the Church. I was given this appointment by Archbishop A. Soegiyapranata, Order of Jesuits. In 1953 I became a teacher at the Sokawati Junior High School (Yogyakarta). It was built by all the nobility and the commoners who still were connected with the family of Sri Sultan Hamengku Buwana I. From 1955 to 1960 I was a teacher of karawitan at a seminary school.

In 1962 I received a certificate of appreciation from the Indonesian National Armed Forces because I had once been a member of the armed forces. Also in 1962 I became a teacher of karawitan at KONRI [Konservatori Tari Indonesia, a high school of dance in Yogyakarta]. In 1963 I became a teacher at ASTI [Akademi Seni Tari Indonesia, a dance college in Yogyakarta]. To this day I am a court official of arts at the palace, looking after all the old books that concern the arts.

In August 1979, Sastrapustaka received the Anugerah Seni award from the Indonesian government for his activities connected with karawitan.

Sindoesawarno, Ki [Radèn Mas]

Ki Sindoesawarno was born in Solo during the Dutch occupation. He attended the Technische Hogeschool in Bandung, which was later to become the Institut Teknologi Bandung. Since he was not from a wealthy family, he had to leave school before he received his degree.

The deep concern of Ki Sindoesawarno with the issue of national art and culture led him to become a member of Anggauta Pamong Luhur Taman Siswa, the highest council of education within the Taman Siswa school system. He was a close friend of Ki Hadjar Dewantara and for a time taught at the Taman Siswa School in Bandung.

During the revolution Ki Sindoesawarno moved to Solo where he became head of the Jawatan Kebudayaan Pusat [Central department of culture] with an office in the Mangku Negaran.

Around 1948, following Indonesian independence, he conceived the idea of opening a school for the study and dissemination of karawitan. He founded the Panitia Kemungkinan Berdirinya Konservatori Karawitan [Committee for the possibility of the founding of the karawitan conservatory] whose membership included R. C. Hardjosubrata; Dr. Suharso; Dr. Moerdawa (who later became the cultural attaché in London, ca. 1955); R. M. P [Radèn Mas Panji] Banakamsi (the conductor of the western court orchestra); R. Ng. [Radèn Ngabèhi] Prajapangrawit (who later became Warsadinigrat); G. P. H. [Gusti Pangéran Harya] Suryahamijaya; R. M. H. [Radèn Mas Harya] Yudadiningrat; R. M. [Radèn Mas] Sartiayatma from the Mangku Negaran; Dr. Patmanegara; and the chairman, G. P. H. [Gusti Pangéran Harya] Surya Hamijaya.

This group met regularly and formed a second committee, called the Panitia Peresmian Berdirinya Konservatori Karawitan Indonesia [Official committee for the founding of the Indonesian conservatory of karawitan], which was headed by K. R. M. T. [Kangjeng Radèn Mas Tumenggung] Bratadiningrat. The second committee developed the curriculum for the proposed school, which consisted of the theory of karawitan, cultural history, history of literature, theory of Western music, musicology, English and Indonesian, gamelan performance, and dance. The inauguration of the Konservatori Karawitan Indonesia took place August 27, 1950, at the Dalem Ngabèhian, the home of the first son of Pangéran Hangabèhi.

Sindoesawarno taught ilmu karawitan [theory of karawitan] at the new school and later taught at the Akademi Seni Karawitan Indonesia. His colleagues there included R. Ng. [Radèn Ngabèhi] Prajapangrawit; R. Ng. Purwapangrawit; R. Ng. Wirawiyaga; R. Ng. Wirapradangga; R. L. [Radèn Lurah] Prawirapangrawit; R. L. Mlayareksaka; and R. L. Pancapangrawit. In 1954 they were joined by R. M. [Radèn Mas] Sumadarmaka and R. M. Sukanto.

Sindoesawarno had many innovative ideas including the concept of a shortened, four-hour, wayang kulit. He died around 1965.

Sumarsam

Born in Dander, Bajanegara, East Java, on July 27, 1944, Sumarsam began to play gamelan at the age of eight. He studied at the Konservatori Karawitan Indonesia at Surakarta from 1961 to 1964, and at the Akademi Seni Karawitan Indonesia at Surakarta from 1965 to 1968. In 1965 he taught gamelan at a junior high school in Surakarta. From 1966 to 1971 he taught at the conservatory in Surakarta and from 1967 to 1971 he was an assistant lecturer at the academy in Surakarta. From 1971 to 1972 he taught gamelan at the Indonesian Embassy in Canberra, Australia. He has performed in major cities throughout Java; at the 1970 "Expo" in Osaka, Japan; in the Philippines; and in Australia. In 1972 he was appointed visiting artist in Indonesian music at Wesleyan University in Connecticut, and from 1974 to the present he has been artist-in-residence there. In that capacity he has performed and lectured widely in the United States. He is the author of several articles on gamelan music published in Ethnomusicology, Asian Music, and Indonesia. Mr. Sumarsam is married, the father of two children, and continues an active career as a teacher and performer in the United States.

Warsadiningrat, K. R. T. [Kangjeng Radèn Tumenggung]

Born in 1882, K. R. T. Warsadiningrat was a gamelan expert from the palace of Surakarta. Recognition of his activities in karawitan began at age sixteen when he became jajar nyaga (lowest-ranking gamelan official) with the title Pradangga. In 1941, after several elevations in rank, he became ordenas of the Surakarta palace by order of Paku Buwana X. His final promotion occurred in 1972 when, by order of the Sunan Paku Buwana XII, he was named bupati sesepuh niyaga with the title Kangjeng Radèn Tumenggung Warsadiningrat. In the field of karawitan, he is known as one of the founders of the Konservatori Karawitan Indonesia at Surakarta (1950). He composed many gamelan gendhing and many suluk for wayang. His written legacy, six volumes entitled Serat Wréda Pradangga [Wédha Pradangga] represents an effort to develop traditional Javanese karawitan. In 1972, before his death on September 6, 1975, K. R. T. Warsadiningrat was given the award Anugerah Seni from the Indonesian government for his role as composer of Surakarta-style gamelan pieces and wayang songs.

His Royal Highness the Most Glorious and Wise Kangjeng Susuhunan Paku Buwana X

Paku Buwana X was born November 29, 1866, crowned March 30, 1893, and died February 20, 1939. His story need not be told at length, because at his death there was a great deal written about him. Here we will just relate that which is important.

His Highness, the son of Paku Buwana IX, was born to Queen Gusti Kangjeng Ratu Paku Buwana. When he was three years old he was named Prince Kangjeng Gusti Pangéran Adipati Anom Hamengku Negara Sudibya Raja Putra Naréndra Mataram V [Lord ruler, young prince, holding the country in his lap, more than wise child-king of Mataram V]. He was circumcised at age sixteen. On August 27, 1884, he was appointed a lieutenant colonel in the Dutch army. On May 5 [188?] he became head of the court of law. On August 1, 1890, he married Bendara Radèn Ajeng Sumasti, who then took the name Gusti Kangjeng Ratu Paku Buwana, the daughter of Gusti Pangéran Adipati Harya Mangku Negara IV. On August 10, 1890, he was promoted to the rank of colonel. On March 30, 1893, he became king. He took a second wife, the daughter of Sampéyan Dalem, the Sinuhun Kangjeng Sultan VII, of Yogyakarta. This queen took the name Gusti Kangjeng Ratu Emas and bore a child, Gusti Kangjeng Ratu Pambayun. His Highness died at age seventy-four, having reigned for forty-five years.

His Highness was famous for his wide knowledge. He dedicated himself to the study of many matters, physical and spiritual. His special talents and abilities, beyond those of ordinary men, included the following.

1. He was a master of gamelan and vocal music, beginning his studies at a young age. While still a prince, he often would dance wirèng [fragments from wayang wong], which he describes in his book Sri Mataya. So also with wayang.
2. His Highness was unusually skilled at oral composition and his servants recorded what he composed. On the first try he could compose a tembang [Javanese sung verse]. A great many of his writings have been published; many more are still stored [in manuscript form]. Below is a quotation from one addressed to his father, composed while he was still a prince. Three verses of dhangdhang gula [prose translation only]:

1. May this my greeting reach you, my father, who rules Surakarta. I have already received the writing on the slate, the message of the kidung, along with the 10,000 in paper money. I receive this generous gift with happiness.

2. I understand that I must use this money to purchase for my biyada [female dancers, food bearers, servants] clothing that is matching, so that they are not envious of one another, but are obedient and loyal. From your blessing to all the servants under my rule, may everyone be contented and eternally happy by the grace of Your Majesty.

3. Finally, this letter I offer on the evening of Sukra Paing [Friday Paing], on the sixteenth of Jumadilawal, in the year Jimakir, Wuku Galungan, seventh month. The appropriate candra sangkala is:

8 1 8 1

[1818, the Javanese year, 1886 A.D.]

SALIRA PUTRA ATI RAJA

body child heart king

[the body of a child, the heart of a king]

Thus concludes my letter, Pangéran Adipati Anom Mangku Negara.

3. His Highness was an expert on the subject of horses. His abilities included not only riding but also mastery of the equestrian science. Often he inspected his horses at the Langen Sari stable. And he would inspect the horses offered to him and would ride them himself [to test their quality].
4. His Highness stood out from ordinary people in his expertise on magic weapons. He knew exactly which krises he had entrusted to the members of his family and to his hundreds of servants. With just a glimpse of the handle he would know the name of the kris. Not only could he remember their names, but he could remember their character and special qualities as well.
5. In addition to sharp weapons [such as swords], he also was masterful in the use of guns. Once a spotted tiger escaped from its cage and climbed to the top of a banyan tree near the tiger cage. His Highness Paku Buwana X fired his weapon and the tiger fell dead to the ground.

To the excellence of His Highness, there seemed to be no end. His memory was formidable. If he saw someone just once, he would not forget when he met that person again several decades later. He had an amazing memory for stories as well, and could be called awicarita [storyteller].

Most people considered the late Paku Buwana X to be—a thousand pardons—conservative. But this is a false opinion. As for exercise, His Highness always maintained a rigid daily schedule: sitting, eating, sleeping, and recreation all occurred at fixed times. Regarding his spiritual training, although it was not immediately apparent, one can see that he kept well and that he could not have lived long had he not kept his mind and body in harmony. He guarded his health by always being a perfectionist. His spirit was pure—this is all quite evident.

His Highness took an active part in the process of modernization [and development]. At the beginning of this modern era, he sent all his children to school. It was his idea always to send those who graduated from high school to continue their studies in Holland.

As for government, his opinions were progressive. In the realms of education, religion, health, economy, government, and agriculture, to name a few, the process of modernization was evident. Whoever knows about the conditions in Surakarta past and present will certainly concur.

His Highness's generosity and kindness were felt by all the governing bodies and groups that passed through Surakarta, and so Surakarta was chosen as the location for the Konggres [Congress]. To put it simply, many people were indebted to his generosity; indeed, his gifts flowed like water. His socializing flourished. With no end there were foreign guests who came to his palace and were touched by his warmth. Furthermore, his friendship with the kings of other countries is a proven fact.

As a last impression of the late Paku Buwana X, his real spiritual perfection meant that he was a god. Whatever he said really happened, and there is no need to feel apprehensive about his eternal life in the hereafter. Fortunate are all those who have been given a bit of his knowledge.

May his blessing flow continuously forever.
